Australia to accept Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE) scores from 5 November

Australia's Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) has confirmed that they expect to start accepting scores for Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE) for student visas from 5 November this year, alongside IELTS - another exam developed by Cambridge ESOL.

Earlier in the year DIAC announced the approval of Cambridge English: Advanced as proof of English language skills for student visa application purpose.

This announcement will benefit students who want to prove that they have in-depth English language skills and the ability to use them effectively in an educational context. Cambridge English: Advanced is recognised by over 3,000 organisations in 76 countries.
